
QFCRA conducts talks for students

DOHA: The Qatar Financial Centre Regulatory Authority (QFCRA) conducted a series of lectures and workshops to students of Qatar University being one of the first key audiences in a new engagement and outreach strategy which will see its regulatory experts working alongside senior academic staff at the University.

Shankar Garigiparthi, Director in the QFCRA's Supervision team, lectured last December on the application of risk management in insurance. The lecture was designed to supplement the students' learning with some practical insights into risk management strategies.

Garigiparthi was pleased to learn the interactive lectures that whilst focused on some basics of risk management, the practical examples gave students an insight into the practical issues that arise with this subject.
